Dear Dona,

I am a junior high school student. And I am now under a lot of pressure in school. But there is one thing that bothers me the most. My younger sister makes lots of noise when I study. Furthermore, she always leaves her dolls in my room, which makes me feel very uncomfortable. I like my room to be clean and quiet, but no matter what I say to my sister, she turns a deaf ear at me, what can I do?

Sincerely, Mina.

Computers have become a very important part of our everyday life. Both of the young and the old spend more and more time on it. Students do homework, talk, and play games on it. For many businesswomen, Internet is the most convenient way for them to shop around. They can stay at home and still enjoy the fun of shopping.

When people talk on computers, they use textspeak to talk faster. Acronym is the most popular way. For example, “BRB” means “be right back”, “ASAP” means “as soon as possible”. Sometimes people use numbers and letters to make a new meaning, like “4U” means “for you” and “L8R” means “later”.

It is interesting, isn’t it?
